HUMAN WASTE

We have received complaints from private woodlot owners and neighbours about 'landmines' in inappropriate places on their property. In our own forest operations this is also a big issue. Under Pan Pac's Environmental Standards human waste must be buried and located away from waterways and tracks.

When you get the urge to go.....spare a thought for other forest users and owners of the land.

Your toilet waste can carry and cause dangerous diseases!!!

- Hepatitis
- Infections
- Giardia
- Ascariasis
(round worm)

So when you get the urge:

Do the right thing and bury it!

Covering it up minimises the risk of the spread of disease.
